

Title of the subject	: Fodder crop production and grassland management
Subject leader	: Dr. Ferenc Dér, associate professor
Prerequisite	: Nutrition physiology
Credit	: 3
Short description of the subject	: The main purpose of the subject on one hand to introduce the integrated technology of the fodder crop production. During the teaching we pay special attention to the traceability of the fodder crops from the field to the animal.  The subject of Grassland management include the grassland production, grassland utilization having special regard to the quality of forage.
Compulsory reading	: Givens, D. J., E. Owens , H. M. Omed, R. F. E. Axford (Eds) 2000 Forage Evaluation in Ruminant Nutrition. Cabi Publishing, UK Vallentine, J.F. 2000 Grazing Management, 2nd Edition, Academic Press, USA
Further reading	: Holmes W. (1988): Grass its Production and Utilization. Blackwell Scientific Publications, USA